Dear Ms. Renata Hesse:

Please put a stop to the campaign against Microsoft.

Microsoft's success is based on its marvelous work ethic. Netscape used to be a much better product than Internet Explorer, but after long hard work, Microsoft has improved its product. It is now the best, and fully deserves a place on the desktop.

The attack on Microsoft is an attack on hard work and success. It devalues entrepreneurship and depresses the stock market. It is an attack on our economy.

Please stop.

Sincerely,

Mark Steinberger
